Explosion Holds More Than Passing Interest

Two families in this area had more than a passing interest in the news report this morning of an explosion which rocked the destroyer "Ottawa" at St. Quinlan, British Columbia. At latest report police said no one was injured in the explosion.

For Mrs. Jessie Black, Vimy Road, Lindsy, the news of the explosion brought back memories of the day her late husband—Chief Stoker, P.O. George Black served aboard the destroyer.

A newspaper clipping from the Evening Telegram brought this into focus by Mrs. Black, gives in vivid detail a description of one of the various exploits of the Ottawas.

Cresswell Man... A district man who was recently transferred of the destroyer is Peter Officer Gordon McPhaden, Petty Officer McPhaden was attached to the engine room staff aboard the ship.

WINTERS WORST—The worst snow on record hit the Halifax, Nova Scotia area—20 inches of snow are already on the ground and another four inches are expected.

The worst snowstorm of the season on the East Coast has brought traffic to a standstill and the Nova Scotia capital is almost completely paralyzed. The storm struck unexpectedly about midnight and by 6 o'clock this morning Halifax had 18 inches of snow and Yarmouth, at the southern tip of the province, was buried under 14 inches.

Cape Breton Island is expected to feel the effect of the storm later this afternoon.

All schools in Halifax County were closed this morning and scores of business places in Halifax did not open their doors when workers were unable to get through.

The Junior girls won 46-20 over Lakeside. The Senior girls won 29-22 after a 2-minute overtime. The boys lost all three games, but the Senior team played 29-22. The game to be played against Hamilton on Friday will determine whether the boys will move on to Peterborough to play Ajax or not.

Cake-Making Tip

Convenient and popular cake mixes are today's answer to the woman who makes a good cake from a favorite recipe. The Home Remedies Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture says luck plays a very small part in successful cake-making. Here are some tips concerning the ingredients which good cake-makers know all four are not the same but are mixed for different types of baking. Cake and pastry firms are much better than other kinds for cake-making. If all-purpose flour is substituted for pastry flour, however, use two tablespoons less per cup.

Modern shortening cream well and are satisfactory for cakes. Some have an emulsifier added which shortens the mixing time, so no creaming is necessary. If butter or oil is used, a little less liquid is required.

Use fine white sugar unless brown is called for in the recipe. Roll coarse sugar with a rolling pin to sugar it lump-free before using. To keep brown sugar moist and soft, place in airtight container in the jar or tin.

Egg whites whip best at room temperature. Beat for three days and will not be stiffly if left in place. Even a small amount of egg white left over from the beater or bowl will prevent egg whites from beating stiffly.

When the kind of baking process is not specified in a recipe, the amount refers to six leaching baking powder. If double-acting baking powder is used, reduce the amount by one-half.

His of His Dreams

A search for the girl of his dream took a very old Paul Lester halfway around the world. It ended in his Miami Beach apartment where the elderly widower married the girl—60-year-old Miss Slack. After a whirlwind courtship of three weeks, Lester took her to his home at a nearby hotel where he married her. "I'm going to marry her," he said. And he did, too.

Guys to Keep Up

There's nothing like a little guy to keep a gal lit. At least that's the opinion of 74-year-old Frances Bolton, The Republican Congresswoman from Ohio, as she has been turning heads on her head—turning some serious—and a few light ones. She says she thinks "It's the most complete and most marvellously thought-out about these so-called boys that exists in the world." Anyone for guys?

All of England is going like a neighborhood sewing circle. The country's happily going about their so-called Royal bawls. "It's name," it's mother's royal bawls. A popular play taken by one London newspaper shows a Briton puffer "George" as a name of Elizabeth's third child if it's a boy... and "Mary" if it's a girl... one of the Queen's entourage to quote the Queen's thoughts when she first sees her baby. "How tiny," I'd forgotten the other two were ever so small.

Cite High Research Costs For High Price of Drugs

Toronto (UPI)—H. J. Brown, President of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Association, cited high research costs for the high price of drugs in a speech in Toronto Monday afternoon. Speaking in defense of drug prices, Brown told Ontario drugists that the cost of drugs are costly. But, he said, this is because they are expensive to discover and put on the market.

Brown said that last year North American drug firms expended some 114-thousand different chemical substances in their laboratories for new drug development. He said probably less than 40 of these will be put on the market.

Brown also said drugs have risen in price more slowly than other commodities, and in fact, in view of the reduced purchasing power of the dollar to drug prices have remained remarkably stable.

In defending the use of brand names, Brown said "it is important to the physician because he knows that the quality of a reputable manufacturer is his assurance that no chances are being taken which might prejudice his patient's safety and his own reputation."

It is important also to the patient because he is assured that he will get exactly the drug ordered by the physician, no matter where he takes the prescription to be filled."

In the Women's World

W page standing head. It seems that when many women go to the supermarket they forget what they came for. An industrial designer and specialist in food packaging and marketing made this discovery after he queried 96 housewives.

Ms. Nohel says the things women forget is the item most often forgotten — next are bread and butter, salt, vinegar and ketchup. Also non-essential items like toothpaste, soap, hair cream, etc.

March — furniture polish, and all types of paper products and all types of paper products.

Nesbitt suggests that supermarkets post a list of the staples near the entrance — so the housewife can tear off a copy as she picks up a cart full of items. They plan menu as they go — relying on specialists and displays for suggestions.

He says some of the women suggested a similar list of staples at the entrance. They also suggested the list provide space for the housewife to write down her own list.

"The need to be organized," I'm assuming it wants to do more, says Dr. Wilson. (4570)

In the

Women's World

Shortly after the New York Museum of modern art inaugurated its picture rental service . . . , a housewife came in looking for art to go with her pink sofa. Today, it's more of a favorite painting rather than furniture that sets the decorating scene in the home.

The museum's art lending service likes to think that it and other museums with similar programs have had a hand in this new appreciation of art in decor.

The New York museum doesn't plan its pictures for rent from 70 New York galleries, and through the years has lent painting by Albers and Pollock . . . sculpture by Arntz and Hare . . . and prints by Picasso.

Rentals range from $5 to $52 for a maximum period of three months. If the borrower should decide to purchase a work . . . the rental fee is deducted from the selling price. The museum uses this fee to support the program . . . the exhibiting artist gets the sale price of the picture.

One of the founders of the New York program — Mrs. E. P. Jones — says the aim of the program is not only to spread art appreciation . . . but to stimulate purchases of contemporary art. "Prints" she says, "Do the best business because they're colorful and not so expensive."

She says "people still look for realism in art . . . a landscape or a still life" . . . but warns that "there's a growing taste for the abstract; worse than bad realism. Abstract art," she says, "can cover a lot of art."

Continue Relationship

The number 35 showed twice during a discussion on membership in the Ontario Municipal Association by Lindsay's Council this week. The membership fee was $35 and the town has been a member for the past 35 years . . . Council decided to continue the relationship.

Request Filed

"Weeks" so Commonplace Becoming Meaningless Councillors Assert

There are too many "weeks" in the year nowadays. That's the conclusion several Lindsay councillors came to when they filed a request to proclaim a week in February "National Electrical Week." The request came from the Electric Service League of Ontario.

"What's your workshop special on all these special weeks?" Coun. Gordon Pepper asked when the request was considered.

Mayor Burrows: "They are becoming very expensive on the municipality. There's one every week and sometimes two. There would have been 32 last year if we had declared every week requested. The people in this service league should put an 'x' in the paper themselves." His workshop went on to say that it didn't seem to be much concentration on a lot of these "once they have been declared . . . 'N' thing is ever heard about them once the proclamation has been issued," he declared.

To Toronto for Staff of Local Store As Taken of Appreciation

Sid Eldon, manager of Adams Furniture Store, told a representative of "The Post" this morning that the store will be closed all day Wednesday, Feb. 23rd, to allow the staff to visit Toronto.

They will leave early Wednesday morning and plans have been made for a full day in the city. Following lunch and work done during the afternoon's shopping, dinner will be held at a private club.

Highlight of the day's outing will be when the area controller and his assistant accompany the Lindsay party to the Ice Pavilion Show.

Mr. Eldon told "The Post" that everyone in the party is looking forward to the experience which the firm is providing in appreciation of the staff's hard work and the untimely fire.

Explosion in Manitoba Causes "Echo" in Lindsay

An explosion in northern Manitoba has caused an "echo" in Lindsay. Not the usual kind of echo, mind you, but an echo nevertheless.

A Lindsay man who doesn't wish to be named because the company he works for has not yet put out statements by employees, says he has been advised of a "small explosion" at Thompson's Electric, a branch of the Kelsey Generating Station, south of Churchill, Man.

He is an employee of the company which built the plant and now home on vacation.

Telling about the effects of the explosion, he said he has learned the plant at Grand Rapids on the Nelson River was heavily damaged by the blast.

The generating station was built primarily to supply power to International Nickel Company's plant at Thompson's, an explosion at which was produced in Canadian Electric Peterborough plant the Lindsay employee declared.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

Some news of special interest to our farm subscribers

New Parasite Disease

Reported In Ontario Cattle

Dr. David Campbell of the Ontario Veterinary College, Department of Parasitology, has recently reported that a parasite disease of cattle exists in widely separated parts of Ontario. The parasite is a small intestinal worm and it is causing a serious set-back in cattle in some herds. The exact geographic distribution is not known, but cases have been found on farms in the east, center, and western Ontario. The parasite has been found to exist in the manure of some, but it is only recognized as such when it has been recognized as such.

The disease affects calves and usually becomes apparent sometime after the animals are 6 weeks old. Affected calves develop persistent coughs and fail to make satisfactory gains.

The animals continue to eat well but they go down in flesh quickly. Occasionally animals die from the effects of the disease. The disease is spread from calf to calf in the manure. According to Dr. Campbell, clean calf pens are essential if the disease is to be prevented. Cows should be taken to see that calves are not penned or pastured where other cattle or calves have been kept recently.

Microscopic examination of the feces is the only reliable means of diagnosing the disease. The examination may be carried out by a veterinarian or a veterinary laboratory. A new drug is available for use in the near future for the treatment of the disease. The disease may be prevented if good sanitary procedures are followed for the housing of calves.

How To Handle Manure In The Field

What's best?

Some say they like to store manure in a pile. Others feel that daily spreading is better. It may be too late this year to change your system, but here are the pros and cons.

"Daily spreading is better than storing manure in a pile," says Bill Campbell, sales specialist at O.A.C. His reason: Stored manure ferments and leaches to the pile.

Fermentation causes the nitrogen to ammonia, which is lost when the pile is opened.

It's easier to spread 1/4 hour spreading each day, than a pile.

Minor Mishap Near Dundasford

Loose snow on the shoulder of a county road is believed to have caused a car to take the ditch and clip off a telephone pole around 4 p.m. Sunday.

Owned and operated by George E. Grombridge of Peterborough, the car was at a point about five miles south of Dundasford when the mishap occurred. There were no injuries.

A telephone pole costs anywhere from $40 to $50 to replace.

1959 Year of Heartening Progress for County Library

The year 1959 proved one of heartening progress for the county library. Both the circulation of books and increased interest in libraries could be seen. For the second year the county library was honoured by receiving the grant of $500 made annually by the Canadian Federation of University Women. This money is used to help encourage reading with children. The county library has a Children's Literature Workshop in January, 1959, on four successive Wednesday evenings — with outside speakers. In addition, a book display of some 500 recommended titles was arranged, and a micrograph set of these books given to all attending the workshop. The book list is also available to others, incidentally we have had requests from many small libraries etc. outside the county for the list.

The village of Kirkfield which has long had a library now rejoices in a new building for its library. But the library is not the only building which is changed. The township of Eldon recognizing that libraries are important to the welfare and progress of the community took over the library making it one of the whole township, giving it increased financial support and housing the library in the new municipal building. The same year, Mr. H. Carr is still there, and the shells of interest in the library with many more members and the former members reading more. Nearly every library in the level in the county show an increase in 1959 in the number of books being read. Two of the libraries, retired Mrs. E. Vary of Cambridge and Mrs. K. Keeler, of Manilla, they were replaced by Miss Mary Wikinson (Camilla) and Mrs. A. P. Macmillan (Manilla).

The county library now loans books to 124 classrooms, an increase of 14 over 1958. Large increases in circulation were shown by nearly every township. Both Lindsay College and Kendon Falls High schools set substantial increases in the number of books used.

The Victoria County Gazette receives books from the county library. At the suggestion of the governor, Mr. H. Hartwick, a collection of 1958.

The county library now has 12,802 books in its collection — 2,740 adult fiction, 2,682 adult non-fiction, & 6,957 children's books. In 1959, 312 new books were added to the shelves.

Heating Problems Being Remedied

Heating problems in connection with a house owned by the Ross Memorial Hospital on Jane Street are going to be remedied. A decision to this effect has been reached by the board of governors in the wake of complaints from the present tenant, RHM administrator George Dixon.

Governor George Hodgson told the board everything had been done to make the house warmer, including insulating it, but the situation had not improved.

Governor A. W. Cram recalled the present furnace was installed when Mr. Norman Muttar was the administrator. Decision of the board was to consult with the maker of the unit and go on from there.

IN COURT DEFERS TO GO. REALINGS

Magistrate Declares Company Practise 'Absolutely Fraudulent'

Magistrate Moore observed that Robert's if he understood the terms of the agreement. That another $90 had to be raised within two days or the deposit lost.

Robert told the court he did but that his companion had undertaken to raise the additional money.

Magistrate Moore observed "that had, taking money from a 15-year-old boy under those conditions."

Robert then told the court the salesman had told them that if they could raise another $20 to $40 he would personally sign for the balance.

Magistrate Moore: "I think the Peterborough chief should check up on them. . . That's absolutely fraudulent. . . strictly a 'come-on' practice."

Robert told the court that if he had got the amount of money Area Manager Harry Johnson claimed he had "I wouldn't be here now. . . I would have been many miles away."

Charge Against Fenelon Youth Dismissed
In the face of evidence heard in a Highway Traffic Act case in Lindsay, Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan said he was forced to conclude that an accident couldn't possibly have occurred. Insulin's Co-Discoverer Dr. Charles H. Best

The lives of 18 million diabetics throughout the world have been saved and lengthened because of the dramatic discovery of insulin in 1921 by the youthful Canadian research team of Frederick Banting and Charles Best. Bold vision, uncompromising intellect and devoted teamwork combined to conquer a hitherto fatal disease and a new era of medical research was begun. Dr. Best, a dedicated science graduate of 23 at the time he worked on the great experiment which resulted in the isolation of the hormone insulin and the demonstration that it could be used to control the blood sugar content of diabetic patients, was one to become a world authority on insulin and an eventual career in the realm of scientific research which has brought him a battery of honours and awards unparalleled in Canadian medical history. Born in Maine, U.S.A., in 1899, the son of native Nova Scotians (whose ancestors came from England at the time of the founding of Halifax in 1749) Charles Herbert Best entered the University of Toronto in 1916 receiving his first in a long series of academic degrees in 1921. He has been honored by 19 Universities in the Western world, among them the Universities of Paris, Amsterdam, Edinburgh, Melbourne, Uruguay, Lille and Paris. His distinctions range from the first Canadian fellowship in the Pontical Academy of Sciences (limited to a membership of 60 scientists throughout the world) to first honorary president of the Canadian Diabetic Association and honorary Admiral of the Texas Navy. Dr. Best resigned in the artillery in the first world war and as director of medical research for the Canadian navy in the second world war. For his work on a method of drying and storing blood for military purposes, he was captured in Commander of the British Empire in 1944.

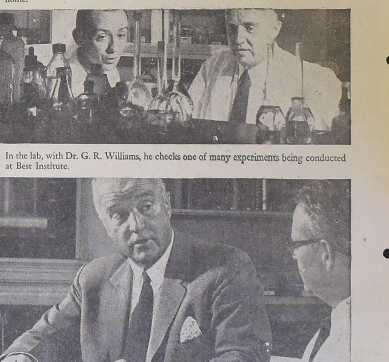

A man of impressive vigour and charm, Dr. Best has endeared himself to his colleagues and to the home of insulin attracted to his laboratory. Above, at his Neauagaweya farm with 8-month-old grandson, Charles Stewart Best.

After a busy day, Dr. Best leaves his Charles H. Best Institute of Physiology which he has headed since its opening in 1951. In addition to research on insulin and diabetes the Institute is engaged in projects on cancer, rheumatism and liver damage.

With his wife, Margaret, and pet poodle "Doche" in the living room of their Toronto home.

In the lab, with Dr. G. R. Williams, he checks one of many experiments being conducted at Best Institute.

Area Where

Chatterbox

— by Millicent —

...last Sunday and so you can find red and white hearts fluttering overhead by suspending them with a thread taped to the ceiling.

For a gay party table centerpiece... fashion a "Flower" heart, a coat hanger and outline with fresh flowers. Fill the heart with silver foil-wrapped chocolate and you're well on your way to capturing the heart of each of your Valentine's.

To secure the conquest... tie this Valentine two some—like high raspberry pie and the juice into a measuring cup, add frozen raspberries, then soften two envelopes of unflavored gelatin in the juice.

Now combine one-half cup sugar and one-half cup water, stirring over a low heat until the sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly until mixture forms peaks and then add to the gelatin in the thermometer... or until syrupy a thread. Add the soft gelatin to the syrup and stir until it dissolves.

Slowly pour syrup mixture over the frozen berries and... beating rapidly while pouring. Continue beat until mixture forms peaks and when beater is raised. Now fold in two cups of heavy whipped cream and the drained raspberries.

Pour the mixture into baked nine-inch pie shell and garnish with shredded coconut and... and chill several hours until set.

Now for the perfect complement to a perfect dessert treat your Valentines to claret punch.

For the theme-setting party beverage... you'll need one half cup of fresh or frozen lemon juice, one six-ounce can of frozen pineapple juice, recently, one cup sugar, four-fifths of a quart of claret wine and two bottles of chilled gingerale.

Combine the fruit juices and sugar... and stir until sugar dissolves. Then add wine and chill.

To serve... put an ice wealth of roses in the punch bowl. Then pour in the fruit juice and gingerale. Stir gently, makes 24 to 30 punch cup servings.

A delightful duo for a most delightful day.

Turn an old pocketbook into a first aid kit for the car. Put in bandages, cotton, antiseptic, needle and thread and small pair of scissors. You might also add paper and pencil... and a collection of minkies and dimes for tolls and parking meters.

STILL CASH SURE FIRE

Councillors Refer To Mounting Lighting Costs

It will cost Lindsay $10,000 to 1950 just to keep its streets lit. This was revealed by Councilor Jos. Helton, Monday when he pointed out that the February street lighting bill was up $120 over last year. He also told councillors that street lighting costs are going to be $900 to $1,000 higher this year without a single additional light. Mr. Helton said the by difference in his capital charges for new lights put in by the council last year. This worked out at about $720 per year and covered 100 new lights installed in 1949.

Mr. Helton was asking for directions in connection with this year's lighting program. Council authorized Mr. Helton to get estimates on costs of an improved lighting on Kent Street between Lindsay and Sussex Streets and along Queen Street. In addition he was authorized to investigate the lighting needs on St. David Street where it approaches the town's new railway.

Recent Prices, referring to mounting lighting bills, and the reason given, "There's still a lot of money on hand," he declared.

Mayor Burrows expressed his opinion that the Council should be asked to cash some of the bonds which had been purchased out of surplus earnings.

Councilor Jos. Helton, talking about the street lighting said he felt the "old money" was being scraped. "It may have been all right years ago but we have to live with the times," he declared. Mr. Helton explained that in the past, when hydro rates were low, he had pointed it took the old equipment in repairs and then installed it somewhere else in town.

Concentrating on rising costs of street lighting, Councilor Pepper asked: "At what point does the taxpayer get no more power plants?"

Mr. DeGroot said he was interested that Mr. Peirce had said, "Hydro seems to have quite a number of bonds." He asked what Mr. Peirce planned to do with them.

Mr. Helton said he understood that the bonds were issued for capital expenses. Mr. Helton asked what improvements were planned this year.

Councilor Pepper said it was a "night" at the point in Lindsay where main arteries have all been dimpled in through the day lighting. To 1949, 200,000, Nick Kerton 670 and P. Owens 662. Top Ellison for 767. T. Rutter with 656.

Long List of Area Thefts

A youthful offender who last week asked to be spared a penitentiary term got what he asked for in a trial on magistrates' court Friday.

Previously jailed on several charges to which he pleaded guilty, youthful Paul Mueller of Toronto was sentenced to 18 months in Kingston Penitentiary when convicted of his latest offence.

Mueller was already serving an 18-month reformatory term when he was returned to Lindsay for a trial on another charge. Upon conviction last week, Magistrate Moore commuted the youth's request that he be spared a penitentiary term. He gave him an additional five months which would have permitted him to serve out his full term in George Reformatory.

Convicted this morning of breaking, entering and stealing over $700 from an Imperial Oil depot at Fenelon Falls, he told the court he would like to learn a trade—radio and TV repair—at least he said he would.

"I've learned a trade there now," the magistrate asked Crown Attorney Jordan.

Mr. Jordan: "Eighteen and five."

Magistrate Moore: "Make it two years in Kingston... You'll learn a trade there."

Mr. Jordan: "The accused asks to have all terms commuted."

Mr. Moore: "Yes, this will wipe out all the others."

PC Wm. Weaving of Fenelon Falls gave evidence in the latest offense Mueller was accused of committing. "I saw Mueller read a statement signed by Mueller in which he said in part that he and three other had proceeded by car to Fenelon Falls, parked in front of the Imperial Oil depot inside the office and ran back to it."

Recalling the series of offences which Mueller had already committed in the district, Magistrate Moore commuted the youth's request that he be spared a penitentiary term. He gave him an additional five months which would have permitted him to serve out his full term in George Reformatory.

Magistrate Moore, glancing at the sharp - featured youth who smiled as he recalled his exploits said: "You're not very afraid."

Children Transferred From Lindsay School Closes After Serving Townships For Almost 100 Years

Bethany (PNS) — Franklyn School, known as Union School, 202 of Mainers and Cavendish, was closed today after it had for almost 100 years been open.

The decision to close the school was made in November when a lack of pupils became apparent. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Michie moved to Peterborough in October with their children. Mr. and Mrs. Harold White moved close to Bethany, and their son Bruce, was attending the school here.

There were only two pupils in the district — Joseph Clark and William Hill, in grades five and one respectively, and these two children are now being transported to Bethany school.

Mr. Percy Sargent, principal of the school, said the school has now been engaged as Principal.

Mr. Sargent said the school was being sold to the township, which was forced to make some changes there, necessitating an additional teacher.

First School

The first Franklin School was a small log structure situated on the big hill overlooking the Devil's Elbow on the Caran-Mainers boundary.

It was built in 1860 and was used by Francis Lynn, in which time the son of the Bethany family, lived in the school.

By 1884 was large enough to accommodate the 20 or so children who were attending the school.

The first teacher was Robert M. Williams, who was a hickory stick but was never idle long enough to become a teacher.

Planks placed around the three walls of the room. They had to step over the planks to get down and then they faced the walls. Between these planks Mr. Williams would sit and plank high enough on which to write. This served as a desk.

It was and it was to permit easier writing. In the centre was a huge wood burning stove, feet wide, made three feet long. At the front there was a small blackboard and two windows.

The present brick school has built in 1936. Just a short distance west of the Mainers-Cavan boundary on the 11th concession of Mainers, half an acre was purchased from James Fallis for a school site.

There were numerous families of this name and James was known as "Jimmie the Bush." One of his sons was the late John H. Mainers.

Another son entered the Ministry. Rev. John Fallis was a Presbyterian minister and was well known for many years.

He occupied the pulpit in Trinity Church, Peterborough, and was a member of the Victoria, R.C. Church, Lindsay.

Leather-Bond Bible

1959 brought student teachers from Toronto Teachers' College to Franklin School. They marvelled at the condition of the leather-bond Bible dated 1844 which cost 50 cents at time of purchase.

The inspectors who served are Dr. J. Tiley, Dr. W. E. Tiley, C. D. Snider, C. F. Cannon, T. R. McEwen, and E. Webster.

Among the teachers who have taught at Franklin School beginning with the first mentioned Mr. Morrow they continue with J. Middleton, F. Pritchard, Edward Hart, H. Kealy, James McMiller who later entered the Ministry and served in various Methodist churches throughout the Bay of Quinte Conference. I. Graham, Thomas Kennedy, Howard Smith, and others.

In Junior C Hockey action on Saturday night the Lindsay Jr. A's defeated the Rays 8-2, victory over their Bobcaygeon hosts. The Lindsay crew dominated the play throughout the game. Strasserberg led the Lindsay crew down the scorers' list with four goals and the B's scored. Both netminders were outstanding. It was a disappointing night for the Lindsay Jr. A's as they lost on the part of Junkin in goal for Bobcaygeon that night. The Lindsay Jr. A's were the highest scorers in the league. It was one of those nights, Lindsay seemed unable to make more than one or two goals in their playing, while the Bobcaygeon lads just could not get rolling at all.

Lindsay opened the first half with a goal at 34 seconds in the first period. Strasserberg, from Freddie and fast was followed by a goal scored by McLean with Jenkins and J. R. J. (J. R. J. should be the correct initials for the first goal) scored for Lindsay at 5:54. Lindsay's last goal was scored by the Lindsay Jr. A's at 10:00. SEARCH FOR BODY OF MISSING FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY CONTINUES

Four members of the Peterborough Driving Club have joined in the search for five-year-old Derrick Hinton, missing since Monday morning. It is believed the boy drowned in the icy waters of the Scugog River.

The four divers are Wm. (Bill) Dewar, who is plant engineer at Canadian Arsenals Ltd., Lindsay; Bob Quinn, president of the diving club and an experienced diver; Bob Hancock; and Paul McWhain, all of Peterborough.

Late Monday afternoon Bill Dewar entered the water in the first attempt to recover the boy's body by diving. He moved for considerable distance out into the river before he was forced to abandon the attempt and come ashore. . . His diving suit had sprung a leak. Commenting on the search, Bill said he would have ignored this in his younger days but his health did not permit him to subject himself to undue exposure. This morning he was on the job helping prepare the other divers for the grim task ahead.

Hundreds of volunteers offered their services to help in the effort to recover the boy's body as word of the double tragedy got around. Police Chief John Hunter said his department's telephone was kept on the jump for hours as officers sat alert poised to be called out at any time. He asked the Kiwaness Club, which volunteered as a group, to stand by for after midnight service.

Vigilant Sable Island Weathermen Rob Graveyard of the Atlantic

Sable Island, off the Nova Scotia coast, is a slender, crescent-shaped sand bar which centuries of Atlantic sailors and fishermen have shunned as the "dust of death." It is the visible portion of a treacherous sand bank which extends in hidden bars for more than a dozen miles inland from the sea. These grisly ridges have sucked to destruction some 200 ships and more than 10,000 warriors, mostly during the cruise epitaph: graveyard of the Atlantic. The island itself is whirling as the marauding tide carves away at the shoreline. Lighthouses erected on either end of the 26-kilometre long island eventually fall before the endless beating of the sea and new lighthouses must periodically be rebuilt further inland.

Mariners claim some sinister quality is possessed by the banks of Sable Island which will confuse the bear compass and make an unfortunate ship should venture too near. Many Nova Scotia fishermen keep a sealed flask of Sable's yellow, maddening sands among their memento moris.

— THE BOAT —

sharply from a newly developed park late and he was reported to be floating down to the water's edge. Some distance further along the river, where the ice again closed over the water, something red appeared to be floating on the surface. Seconds after fire rescue boat reached this point, the body of a small boy was hauled from the water and the race against death began. A rescuer was pressed into action and the work continued for the best part of an hour. During the progress of the work, Dr. Hugh Davies arrived and administered what aid he could. He was later joined by Dr. W. R. Crowe.

At 12:55 p.m., the small still form of Peter Wilson was lifted from McArthur's ambulance at the McArthur Funeral Home. Peter was dead.

The boy's parents—Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonard Wilson—live at 49 St. Lawrence St. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hinton, parents of the other boy, reside at St. Lawrence St.

Throughout the resuscitation effort on the Wilson boy, scores of people beamed to the river's edge with hot water, blankets and . . . Practically every other person present to the scene of the tragedy was carrying one or the other or both.

A biling ast wind chilled the hundreds of spectators to the marrow as they stood around in shoddy groups, waiting for the tragedy which had struck. Police Chief John Hunter ordered a rescue boat brought into operation just before 9 p.m. Chief Hunter said he was convinced the boy was missing but had not drifted far downstream. The Wilson boy's body was believed to have floated from the point the sled went into the water until it caught on the ice separating the river beyond the open water.

When "Post" representatives visited the scene shortly after 2 o'clock Province and town police were assisting five men in dragging the chilly Scugog for the body.

Mrs. N. Burke, Logie Street, told newsmen that shortly after 11 a.m. she had occasion to leave the house for a few minutes. She recalled that the heart someone calling "Hoo daddy?" Mrs. Burke said she did not pay much attention to the cries as she was under the impression it was children playing.

A few minutes later she said Mrs. Burke went outside the house again she saw two dogs near the scene where she had seen the children playing earlier.

Mrs. Burke said she felt some warning signs should be placed near the scene as children were playing in that area all the time.

At press time chain saws were being brought into use by Fire Chief Arnold Watson to assist in breaking the ice near the shore.

Crowds of spectators braved the chilling winds to watch the rescue operations.

Probing forway Following Ceiling Collapse

A member of the congregation of Queen Street United Church—Mr. John Ekins—sustained a cut on the forehead when a piece of plaster fell on him during Sunday morning's service.

One member of the congregation Mrs. Dorothy Drummond, 25 Kent Street, fainted following the incident and a doctor had to be summoned.

The three-by-four piece of plaster fell during the singing of a hymn it was revealed.

A full investigation into the defect in the ceiling is now underway.

HEALTH BOARD SHOULD PRESS MATTER

Members of the Lindsay Board of Health rightly expressed considerable concern at a meeting last week over the high bacteriological count found on the new beer glasses now in use in beverage rooms. The business of inspecting beverage rooms is, it was disclosed, the task of the local Board of Health. We feel the local board must pursue this matter and take every available step to see that this situation is remedied as soon as possible. The local board said it would carry out occasional inspections and do the best they could. That is not good enough, especially where public health is concerned. It is known that tests are now being conducted in the Provincial Laboratories at Toronto, which could result in the glasses with the outer white measuring ring being taken out of service. If as the Board of Health suggested, the ring at the top of the glass, which has a rough outer surface is the breeding ground for harmful bacteria, then we would respectfully suggest that these glasses be taken out of commission, at once.

Chatterbox

— by Millicent —

Operation Anti-Loneliness
An elderly Lindsay woman who lives more from life than from a well-furnished, clean and warm apartment, 77-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth Brewster has a host of friends. So one day, more than four months ago, she began sitting outdoors in the winter sun, hoping that someone might talk to her... maybe even become a friend. At first, passers-by thought the woman an aimless wanderer or an eccentric to be kept outdoors 10 hours a day... rain or shine. But soon neighbors helped refill her water bottle that the bird had run to keep her warm... may stopped to chat and pass the time of day. After 132 days of her "operation anti-loneliness," Mrs. Brewster said, "I feel healthier than ever" — and she's loved it no longer.

Something In Common
Singer Abba Lase and two-and-a-half-year-old Ellen Bengal have something in common: a witty tongue and a talent for making news. Miss Lase, 40, referring to the idea of a hurricane being given her name by the United States weather bureau said, "The only trouble is they'd have to call her 'Hurricane Abba'—Oh Cha Cha Cha." Little Ellen Bengal made headlines after she climbed a 40-foot TV tower because she wanted to go to the moon. After she was rescued from her precarious perch, she promised her distraught mother, "I'll never go to the moon, Mommy... not until I get big."

It's Worth The Effort To Dress Up Beans
Beans are easy to dress up in various interesting guises. After you drain them, for example, add bacon drippings or pork, or sliced green peppers for a pleasant flavor combination, suggests the Home Economics Service of the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture.

Mexican style beans make a delicious casserole. Combine about three cups of precooked beans with canned tomatoes, chopped green onions and seasonings to taste with salt and chili powder. Bake with bacon strips over the top. To cook dried beans Western style, make a quick and spicy chili sauce out of a spicy chili sauce. You can do this by adding some of the bean liquid to catsup or chili sauce and adding some chopped onion. Then take the precooked beans in this until they're well heated through. Beans combine with left over meat and your own chili mixture. Ground beef, beans, bacon drippings, chopped onions, bay leaf and chili powder make a good filling dish served with a tomato sauce. Beans have a complete first course

A Lovelier You

THINK! TIPS Whether or not you have professional beauty skills, here's a way to achieve that fresh-out-of-salon hair every time. And a handy thing it is, what we call the hair curler. It's a matter of minutes.

When shampooing, pin up straggling curls. When you are washed, do not water-dampen your hair; dampen with hair spray after shampooing. Drying them is a matter of minutes.

For touching up, mist with make-up in a fine, coarse colored hair mist. Then use the hair curler. It's a matter of minutes. Every third day between misting, apply a colorless lot on the hair and under the hair to keep the curls from falling.

Pluck nostrils. Eyebrows as they appear. This saves appearance, and in the long run, it saves time, too.

To banish fatigue lines, take dark circles, give yourself a home facial. Simply make a footsore compress of alcohol, cotton and wring it out in good with hush! Be down and there the compress over your face. After fifteen minutes, you will look and feel refreshed—glowing with health.

Guide Golden Jubilee Pageant Attended by District Leader

Mrs. L. H. LeCraw of Norland, who is captain of the Golden Jubilee and district guide, accompanied the district leader, Mrs. J. H. LeCraw, recently attended the Golden Jubilee pageant which was held in Eaton Auditorium, Toronto.

The district leader, Mrs. LeCraw and Brownie leaders as well as commissioners were in attendance. The occasion was the national birthday party celebrating the fifty-fifth anniversary of Canadian Girl Guides.

Provincial Commissioners from British Columbia to Newfoundland, original members of the 1st St. Catharines Girl Guide unit, and many young girls, many formed in 1910 and leaders, heard the Chief Commissioner, Mrs. Rankin Nesbitt, welcome them to the party.

"No matter how big an organization we become in the next fifty years," she reminded them, "we must remember our first aim—to work for and with."

She then introduced the pageant—fifty years looking back—the history of Canadian Girl Guiding during the first half century. The highlight of the show was a parade of costumes worn by guides and leaders during that fifty years. Everything from a full-length evening dress, complete with stick, worn by the guide of 1910, to the modern sea ranger, with her navy suit, white shirt, and naval sailor cap, were shown.

After the pageant the month birthday cake was cut by the Chief Commissioner. Small cakes were presented to each of the Provincial Commissioners and the colourful "out of arms" of each province came into full view as each commissioner received her cake.

This year, yellow tulips will bloom from coast to coast to celebrate fifty years of guiding. This "River of Gold" which will be seen in every district where there are guides and brownies is to say "Thank You" to their communities for their support and appreciation to the Guide and Brownie movement. A movement which is 200,000 strong in the jubilee year.

Lack FACTS for FARMERS

Mr. Fair observed that the unfortunate part of these things is that these councils change from time to time. "What one member might press one year, another might oppose differently another," he declared.

At a Town Solicitor Jo. Staples noted that the Reeve Buckley referred to in various excerpts from the minutes and that Mr. Conroy referred to therein as a planning board member, were still in those positions.

Considerable time was spent during the afternoon hearing reviewing the history of proposed developments on Lindsay's outskirts. Subdivision applicants named included those of the Home Builders Co-operative, the Sleep subdivision, Brenda subdivision, Springdale Gardens, the Mackay, Weidon and T. A. Wilson subdivisions.

Questioned later in the hearing by Mr. Staples Deputy-revee McQuarrie said it was the feeling of Lindsay's council that there should be an overall plan for the integration of services to areas proposed for development.

This point was emphasized when reference was made to the need services at the recently completed Ontario government building west of Lindsay and the projected Girls' Training school to be erected within the proposed annexation area.

Municipal Board Councilman Fair was critical of the area set aside by Lindsay for industrial development purposes. He told the hearing evidence had been submitted to the effect that as one industry moves in, another moves in. Acquisition of additional areas of land by a municipality would be based on something, generally increasing population.

Deputy-revee McQuarrie said the application for annexation wasn't just based on the

Prove Calves' Parats

With Blood Type Test Veterinary scientists have developed a way to safeguard the registration system of purebred cattle. The method: blood type analysis.

According to Dr. R. Humble of the Ontario Veterinary College, it is "extremely improbable that two animals, other than identical twins, would have the same blood type. Apparently there are nearly 60 known blood groups in cattle and they are arranged into literally millions of combinations.

The O.V.C. lab at Guelph now carries out the paratage tests. Local veterinarians, after approval of the breed secretary, can take blood samples from the dam, the calf and all possible sires.

The tests eliminate all but the actual sire of the calf in question.

need for industrial land. "There is," he said, "a fair shortage of residential land in town."

Citing figures showing the number of houses built in recent years, Mr. Fair asked: "Do you call that activity in building?"

Deputy-revee McQuarrie "I consider that pretty active." Noting that the one subdivision conditionally approved was considerable distance out of town (Springdale Gardens), Mr. Fair made the observation that there was nothing doing in between it and the town.

Deputy-revee McQuarrie held there was a fair amount of development in the intervening area.

Towards the close of the afternoon hearing, Mr. Fair produced several aerial photographs which he entered as exhibits.

Lindsay Man Convicted Of Theft From Chain Store

Magistrate R. J. Moore expressed surprise this morning when he heard the lengths to which a chain store would go to help a shoplifter avoid trouble with the law.

Testifying in a theft case, crown witness Harvey Dawe told the court that sometimes "if a guy's smart" when he is caught trying to get something out of the store without paying for it, he will say "Oh, I forgot this" put on the counter and pay for it.

Dawe was giving evidence against Gary Ordridge of Lindsay who had been charged with theft from Loblaw's Groceries. Ordridge was convicted and remanded in custody one week for presentation before the court.

The crown witness told the court he was assistant manager of the store and that he had watched Ordridge try to conceal a Thermos bottle, put it back and then conceal it again on his person. Both the defendant's jacket and shirt were open at the front, he told the court. Dawe said that after Ordridge had checked through a number of other items presented to the cashier in the usual way, he had asked Ordridge if he could way the Thermos for him. After some discussion, Dawe said he asked the defendant if he could see him at the desk of the store.

Crown Attorney Jordan asked what Ordridge said when they went to the back of the store.

Dawe replied saying he should do and the defendant said "Give me life and labes."

Dawe told the court that Ordridge had also informed him he had never done anything like that before except when he had been intoxicated. "I would say the gentleman had been drinking on this occasion," the witness said.

Crown Attorney "Probably that's why he said 'give me life and labes'."

Cross-examining Dawe, Defense Counsel D. M. Thomson questioned him in detail as to how he knew Ordridge had a Thermos on his person. It was during this part of the hearing that Mr. Thomson asked Dawe why he asked the defendant certain questions about the Thermos in reply to which Dawe said "It's a guy's smart, he'll say 'I forgot that, put it up and pay for it'."

Mervyn Cook, also of Lindsay staff, was the second crown witness called. He testified that Dawe had asked him to remain in the office with Ordridge while he made a phone call to the police. While there, Cook said his back was to Ordridge and that he heard two plunks in the garbage pail which was near Ordridge. Later examination, he stated, revealed the presence of a quarter pint of cream and a carton containing Litterase, which hadn't been there before. These were exhibits two and three in the hearing.

Ordridge and Co-operative P. C. W. Bowers testified that although Ordridge appeared to have been drinking on the whole he was quite orderly and co-operative. Asked if he knew the accused, Bowers said "not personally, our officers arrested him a few years ago."

Defense Counsel Thomson told the court there had not been proven. He held that articles entered as exhibits had never been removed from the premises. "The Thermos had been left on the cashier's desk and the other articles left in the manager's office."

Magistrate Moore: "If don't go along with that... You don't have to get outside."

Mr. Thomson "You must be beyond the paying station... There is no evidence the accused had attempted or intended to leave the paying station."

After moving for dismissal, Mr. Thomson suggested, had the assistant manager had intimated to the court that the defendant had said "Oh,

Minden Man convicted of drinking while on interdicted list

Murray Walker was convicted of drinking while on the interdicted list today and fined $25 plus $3 costs.

Arrested at Minden by OPP Constable Earl Buch, the offender told the court Walker was very intoxicated when he came upon him in a parked car. He testified that the accused fell out of the car when requested to come to the police station. Book up and fell again, finally having to be assisted to the vehicle.

Constable Buch said there were two other men in the car when the arrest was made - Howard Walker and Frank Barton.

Walker said he wasn't drinking liquor in Minden but that he had a little cold and asked a fellow to get him a nickey. He said he didn't know who

I forgot" and offered to pay the whole thing might have been forgotten.

Magistrate Moore agreed that the store was apparently going a long way to give people a chance to redeem themselves.

Mr. Thomson told the bench he was not arguing the question of 'attempt' and asked Magistrate Moore if there was any act of their established.

Magistrate Moore: "Yes, there was."

Mr. Thomson: "Is the court ruling then that if an article is placed at a paying station, the person placing it there is guilty of theft?"

Holding that there had been no actual theft, the court was told by the magistrate that this was a matter of interpretation.

In a final plea to the court, Mr. Thomson said: "Nothing ever happens to this man except when he gets drunk."

Crown Attorney Jordan agreed.

Mr. Thomson said he felt Ordridge had a psychiatric problem and that a jail term would not help him.

Lindsay Singer To Appear On Talent Searchlight

A 20-year-old Lindsay mezzo-soprano will appear on Radio Station CFEB's "Talent Searchlight" on Friday, February 19, as the result of auditions held in Lindsay by talent scout Wishart Campbell, CFEB's Musical Director.

For Shirley Moore, presently attending Teachers' College in Toronto, the program will mark her radio debut.

Miss Moore has studied under a local music teacher since the age of seven, singing at local club meetings, weddings, music festivals and in church choirs in the Lindsay district.

In 1977 she won the Gold Medal at the Canadian National Exhibition for her singing ability.

Although Miss Moore has completed her teaching training and then teaching public school, she expressed a desire to continue her singing instruction, possibly at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto.

Lindsay Area Farmers Guests Of Lions Club

Like the farmers of the Lindsay area were guests of the Lindsay Lions Club at its annual Farmer's Night held in the Hotel Remora.

There was a 100 per cent attendance by the Lions to greet the 22 guests. Immediately following the dinner, the guest speaker, Dr. V. C. R. Walker, assistant head of the Veterinary Section at Connaught Laboratories spoke on his topic "The Connaught Laboratories and Agriculture."

With the use of slides he illustrated the part the laboratories had played in the development of penicillin and insulin. As a special feature for the farmers, Dr. Walker spoke on the drugs used in veterinary work which was duced at the Connaught Labs.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"They say it's the longest movie ever made."

Large Congregation Attends Communion Church Service

Burnt River (PNS)—A large congregation attended the United Church when Rev. Barnes conducted the Communion service. The doxology was sung followed by prayer and singing of a hymn.

A responsive psalm was read in unison and Gloria. The first lesson was read followed by prayer. The reception and baptism of new members was conducted when thirteen young people joined by Profession of Faith, namely: Misses Vera Muriel, Shirley Ann, Marion Beatrice and Ross Wood, also Robin Nancy and Joe Kettle, Carl Humphries and Gloria, Greg and Eric Sheehy.

Prayer was followed by a hymn, "O God of Bethel by Whose Hand" was sung. Rev. Barnes delivered a very impressive sermon to the guidance of the most eventful day in their lives. The first part of the Communion hymn was sung, after which partook of the elements symbolizing the Lord's Supper. The latter half of the hymn 220 was sung and Rev. Barnes pronounced the benediction.

Hector Morton was elected Captain of Sidemen. The sidemen will be named later. Rev. G. E. Meades was instructed to obtain two copies of the canon laws of the diocese for the wardens.

The Altar Guild are Miss Laura Morton, Mrs. G. E. Meades, Mrs. Fred S. Gray, Miss Laura Morton will continue as vestry clerk. It was agreed that the Parish ask to cease its affiliation with the Durham-Northumberland Diocese and make application to join the Peterborough Diocese.

A decision was reached to form a church council to consist of the wardens and heads of each organization. John Palmer, Noel Wood, Charles Smith, Mrs. Morgan Bigelow, and Mrs. Ina Palmer. The office will be donated towards expense of Bishop Wilkinson's forthcoming trip to Europe.

Mayor Thinks Engineering Firm "Ratner Nery"

Mayor Lloyd Burrows thinks the engineering firm which designed the present sewage disposal plant is "rather nery."

The firm of engineers has written the 1960 Lindsay Council suggesting it might be of assistance in designing an enlarged sewage treatment system. The letter was filed.

Commenting on it, Mayor Burrows observed: "These people are the ones who designed the present plant. It seems rather nery that they would come back and design a plant has been a headache for a long time."

Just a Line or Two

It is reported that Mrs. Danes of Minden is thinking of buying Kelly's restaurant in war surplus store and baking business. You can't keep a good man down.

If one needs a few empty liquor cartons these days one has to pay for them. There is the policy of the board to sell them for a cent or two each, it is very commendable of the government to save a few cents here and there, and I thought all along they were being wasteful. Tut Tut.

The betting here now is 2 to 1 that Day will out over Air Force the highway 35 mail contract.

I have spent some time here in Minden and I hope to cover news events in other municipalities. If you are interested in this column drop me a line c/o The Post and tell me what's going on in your district.

In the meantime send in your news for next week's issue. Yours Miti.

Broken Street Lights May Provide Answer To Increased Costs

Broken street lights—28 of them—may provide the answer to some of the questions of provincial police during the Jackson fire last Christmas when they operated a shuttle service to Peterborough.

There were no injuries or damage to the town when the broken street lights were removed at between three and four dollars each.

Colored Plywood Plant Will Employ 18 People

A brand new industry for Cobcock and the whole of Canada is in process of making test runs at that village.

Mr. S. Salmon, president of Beauty-Wood Manufacturing Co., said on Friday the plant will be specializing in colored plywood. Mr. Salmon founded Quality Plywood and Veneer Co. Ltd. at Cobcock five years ago.

Until the Cobcock plant was built, printed plywood was not being manufactured in Canada. In fact, according to Mr. Salmon, it is only three years ago that it was introduced to United States.

The new industry will employ about 18 people at the outset and turn out up to 10 or 12 different colors. Mr. Salmon assumed interested people an attractive sample of the color plywood produced in the new factory. Quality Plywood and Veneer Co. Ltd. expects an average of 42 people by the year round, the first year.

"We plan to produce plywood with a blue, white, and any grain," he declared.

Noting the contribution Mr. Salmon had made to Cobcock's industrial life, Mr. A. K. Bertie of the Unemployment Insurance Commission said that was a good job for the village.

Mouse to Deer Two-Dogs-Maid Two-Doors-Old Doe Near Harcourt

Every winter at this time the Department of Lands and Forest receives many reports on dogs mauling deer. The latest incident to come to our attention was investigated by Conservation Officer D. N. Mather of Gooderham. On Jan. 30, just east of the village of Harcourt, two local two-year-old deer, which was in town. Despite efforts by local residents to save her, the doe died of the following morning. The dogs involved have been tied up pending further investigation.

In addition to the various municipal by-laws governing dogs, the Game and Fisheries Act specifically that "no person owning a dog shall allow it to run at large during the closed season for deer in a locality which deer or moose inhabit." Contravention of this Act makes the dog owner liable for a fine of $50 if the dog was running a deer and a maximum of $100 for a female moose shot.

Conservation Officers can shut dogs on the spot. The dogs involved in the case were shot. Dogs of any breed or size can under certain circumstances be shot. At this time of year, even the farm collie or the little household dog can be shot.

Halliburn (PNS)—The Senior Citizens Club of Halliburn are planning to have a meeting in the near future in the Canadian Legion.

The number of senior citizens who attended the last meeting was relatively small. It is the feeling of the executive that this organization can play a much needed function in the community by joining together in friendship a group of citizens in their later years. Surveys indicate that there are large numbers of citizens over 65 years of age and if these citizens would support an organization of this sort it could be of very effective group in the community.

Every one in this age group, be anyone associated with it, in this age group is urged to draw this meeting to the attention of the older citizens.

If transportation is required, it can be arranged by telephoning Miss Dorothy Clarke.

Home-made street signs with big-city names are one kind of link between the people of the New North and the rest of Canada.

Banking service is another.

Canadian banks are, since the earliest days, taken part in the development of new areas, the opening of new frontiers. Today the chartered banks continue to bring banking services to pioneer settlements as the economic map of Canada is rolled back.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE has increased the number of branches in established areas across Canada — new suburban communities, expanding industrial centres — keeping pace with the country's population and business growth.

To take care of all these varied needs, 1,200 new branches have been opened by the chartered banks in the past ten years.

POWER AND CORRUPTION

Having studied various countries in Europe, Asia, and North and South America, Professor Walter A. Lunden of Iowa State University has concluded that rulers and bosses are generally smarter than the people they rule, but less ethical. And the professor went on to say, in a paper prepared for the American Association for the Advancement of Science, that the greater the power corrupts political leaders and big executives, the more corrupt and criminal they tend to be, but as their power becomes limited, "criminality of rulers and executives tends to decrease quantitatively and qualitatively."
The professor leans to the opinion, and in some instances supporting evidence would not be lacking, that rulers become rulers because they are smarter than the people they rule, in support of which there is a good deal more evidence, is that rulers become less ethical when they become rulers. This latter idea was well summed up about 75 years ago by the British historian Lord Acton: "Power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely."

But whether rulers are rulers because they are less ethical or whether they are less ethical because they are rulers, it is generally recognized that when people as a group assign power they must also establish checks and controls. In the field of voluntary association there has been the recent example of some labor unions of the corruption that can grow when too much power is left in too few hands. In the field of business the one-man rule has generally given way to a pattern of authority shared by boards of directors, chairmen of boards, presidents and vice-presidents, all answerable to shareholders at open meetings.

But of course it is in the field of government where we must be particularly aware of the hazards of surrendering too much authority. The vast evil perpetrated under fascist and communist dictatorships are examples of the extreme. But there is hazard, too, in the far less extreme course of socialism—and the anti-socialism that too many Canadians seem willing to accept. The support for the planned economy, the demands for cradle to grave welfare, the acceptance of government's role in business through Crown corporations, the seeking for state-guaranteed security—all these require the surrender of authority from the public to the state.

Indeed we still need to mark well Lord Acton's warning: "Power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely."—C. J. Harris.

New Drug Promises Help For Duodenal, Gastric Ulcers.

Is your ulcer misbehaving? Are you doing everything you can to get rid of it? Do you get advice and still find no relief?

Sometimes what works for one patient won't for another. A drug that will bring comfort to Dr. Smith may not help Mr. Jones.

I have been reading of a new drug in the management of duodenal or gastric ulcer. Dr. A. Winkelman has reported the study of 87 patients in the American Journal of Gastroenterology.

He used erythromycin, a new drug. He found that it gave good symptomatic relief in all but three patients.

He concluded: "This drug appears to be a valuable agent as an adjunct in the management of acute severe ulcer patients, for the initial treatment in the milder states, and for day-to-day maintenance of all peptic ulcer patients."

Chances are that your doctor or has heard about it already. If there is any need for it in your condition, no doubt he will prescribe it. Don't try self-experimentation. Better not buy it on your own.

Unyielding

I keep advising readers to be sure they have an evaluation of their thyroid gland. They don't seem to feel it. People say "I'm tired because I'm a neurotic," "my nerves have been getting me mad," "I can't understand it," "nothing definite seems to be wrong." When I ask these patients if they have ever had an investigation of their thyroid gland they say "no."

I was happy, therefore, to read of the work of Dr. H. A. Blomer and Dr. L. H. Kyle reported in a recent issue of the Archives of Internal Medicine. In a review of 80 cases of myxoedema (low thyroid action) diagnosed at George University School of Medicine they found that the patients had symptoms for an average of four years before being correctly diagnosed.

Most doctors are on the alert when a patient complains of intolerance to cold, constipation, weakness, inability to concentrate and poor memory. But sometimes these symptoms are not present.

For example, in these 80 patients, the doctors found that 92 per cent complained of nervousness, 80 per cent of depression, 50 per cent of tingling and numbness. Loss of energy occurred in 70 per cent but loss of muscle pain in almost 33 per cent.

In a review of 80 cases of myxoedema (low thyroid action) diagnosed at George University School of Medicine they found that the patients had symptoms for an average of four years before being correctly diagnosed.

Most doctors are on the alert when a patient complains of intolerance to cold, constipation, weakness, inability to concentrate and poor memory. But sometimes these symptoms are not present.

For example, in these 80 patients, the doctors found that 92 per cent complained of nervousness, 80 per cent of depression, 50 per cent of tingling and numbness. Loss of energy occurred in 70 per cent but loss of muscle pain in almost 33 per cent.

New Drug Promises Help For Duodenal, Gastric Ulcers.

Is your ulcer misbehaving? Are you doing everything you can to get rid of it? Do you get advice and still find no relief?

Sometimes what works for one patient won't for another. A drug that will bring comfort to Dr. Smith may not help Mr. Jones.

I have been reading of a new drug in the management of duodenal or gastric ulcer. Dr. A. Winkelman has reported the study of 87 patients in the American Journal of Gastroenterology.

He used erythromycin, a new drug. He found that it gave good symptomatic relief in all but three patients.

He concluded: "This drug appears to be a valuable agent as an adjunct in the management of acute severe ulcer patients, for the initial treatment in the milder states, and for day-to-day maintenance of all peptic ulcer patients."

Chances are that your doctor or has heard about it already. If there is any need for it in your condition, no doubt he will prescribe it. Don't try self-experimentation. Better not buy it on your own.

Unyielding

I keep advising readers to be sure they have an evaluation of their thyroid gland. They don't seem to feel it. People say "I'm tired because I'm a neurotic," "my nerves have been getting me mad," "I can't understand it," "nothing definite seems to be wrong." When I ask these patients if they have ever had an investigation of their thyroid gland they say "no."

I was happy, therefore, to read of the work of Dr. H. A. Blomer and Dr. L. H. Kyle reported in a recent issue of the Archives of Internal Medicine. In a review of 80 cases of myxoedema (low thyroid action) diagnosed at George University School of Medicine they found that the patients had symptoms for an average of four years before being correctly diagnosed.

Chatterbox

— by Millicent —

Bachelor Seeks Wife
British bachelor Fred Morris ... is looking for a wife. The 24-year-old Buntingford, England, man has been living in a house built by the town council. When his father died recently, the council ordered him to leave the house and bring his family with him or four children waiting for housing. A council official told him: "You can't live there alone ... there would be a riot." Repplied Morris: "I'll get married."

Day-To-Day Storage
Important To Vegetables
If vegetables cannot be cooked as soon as purchased, they need to be properly stored. A little special care in storage will help retain the texture and food value of vegetables.

For temporary storage, such vegetables as cauliflower, corn and peas should be left in their natural state; calli-flower in surrounding green leaves, corn in husk and peas in the pods. It is advisable to store root vegetables with tops removed, since moisture may be drawn from the roots to the leaves. Lettuce, spinach, chard and celery are best trimmed and washed before storage. Over vegetables which do not spoil quickly are best stored in a cold place. At room temperature most vegetables lose their vitamin C rapidly. The crisper of the refrigerator is a convenient storage for asparagus, beans, peas, tomatoes and leafy green vegetables. Celulphane bags can be used to advantage for covering many vegetables. Onions, dried beans and dried peas should be stored in a dry place.

Keep canned vegetables cold but avoid freezing, which impairs the palatability. Frozen vegetables should be kept in the freezing compartment until ready for use and cooked in the frozen state. Do not re-freeze thawed vegetables.

Govt. Asked To Consider Nationalization

The federal government has been asked to consider nationalization of the Canadian Pacific Railway and other long distance transportation services.

The plea for nationalization was made in a brief submitted to the federal government by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

The brief urged that the government should "seriously and conscientiously consider" this move in the interests of fully rationalized and integrated transportation operations in Canada.

LINDSAY MAIL DRAWS 30-DAY JAIL TERM

Gray Ordridge of Lindsay drew a 30-day county jail sentence from Magistrate R. L. Moore this morning. Ordridge was remanded, for presentence report, when he appeared before the magistrate last week and was convicted of breaching several articles from Lohm's Groceries.

Defense Counsel David Thomson asked for leniency for his client on the grounds that it would be a mistake to send him to jail. Mr. Thomson, citing the report submitted by Probation Officer G. K. Gilling, said he felt psychiatric treatment seemed to be indicated. He said that although the defendant's record was not good, he had not had any previous criminal record. He said that although the defendant's record was not good, he had not had any previous criminal record.

Magistrate Moore observed that it was not the type of case which came into court very often. "We might be confronted with a similar case every day if the stores wanted to bring in people who shop lift. The amount of stuff taken from stores staggers me," he said. "I don't know if they must know about it."

Magistrate Moore suggested the stores just hesitate to bring a man into court. "I don't think," his worship declared, "stores should go so far as they do trying to keep these people out of trouble."

Agreeing that he didn't think a 30-day sentence was warranted, the magistrate noted that the defendant was divorced, living with a common law wife and that often when he was out of work, he returned to the bottle. Moore said that the defendant had been sentenced to eight years in jail, he said he was forced to work, but he hadn't done much more work.

"I am going to sentence you to 30 days rather than give you a long term," Magistrate Moore pronounced, observing that he was still a young man and that he was not a threat to the community. He said that the defendant had already spent time in jail and that the sentence was warranted. He said that the defendant had already spent time in jail and that the sentence was warranted.

Parcels Convicted on Possession of Stolen Goods Charge by Moore

William Parcels of Lindsay will spend the next eight months in Guelph Reformatory for possession of stolen goods. The sentence was imposed by Magistrate Moore this morning when he convicted Parcels of being in possession of stolen goods.

Witness heard in case which contested around the sale of four tires to Robt. Miller of Miller's Service Station, included Mr. Mike Jas. Woods of Brampton who admitted transporting Parcels and his tires to Miller. Mike Beatty, Peterborough, tire dealer who testified that the tire entered as an exhibit was one which had been stolen from his business, and Sgt.

Gordon Ebert of Lindsay's police Dept.

The case had some humorous aspects when haircut styles became involved. The court heard about freque cuts, brush cuts and even Chipwicks. The hair-styling discussion arose when Parcels claimed he was wearing an Ironhorse half-don when he visited Miller's Service Station to put over the tire deal. During the course of the hearing, the hairdo evolved into a brush cut after a reasonable lapse of court time and at one point Magistrate Moore said he believed the Chipwicks were a similar hairdo to the Ironhorse. He terminated to refer to Parcels' original cut as a Chipwicks style one which had been stolen since he was more familiar with the western Indian tribe.

Is the Catholic Church A MENACE TO DEMOCRACY?

Every now and then a false rumor about the Catholic Church goes into circulation and for a time—fools a lot of people.

Usually such rumors die out when fair-minded people learn the truth. But some of them pop up again and again, one of the latter pay, to deceive people who have not heard them before.

The one most prevalent today is that American freedom is in danger from the "anti-democratic" nature of the Roman hierarchy. This, to some people, will sound very alarming. Actually, there is nothing new about it.

Catholics of a century ago have been the same "alien"—that the Church was hostile to the form of government that was anti-parliamentary in spirit and anti-democratic in substance. They would disregard our free institutions and deprive us of our self-government.

Even those who do not understand the meaning and purposes of the Catholic Church will have to admit the falsity of this rumor. For the evidence of a hundred years notwithstanding is every particular. The Catholic people have never been anti-democratic. Catholic influences in building and defending our liberty and free institutions.

The rumor of today—like the rumor of a hundred years ago—does not claim that the Catholic Church is harmful to men's souls. It does not claim that the Church endanger the salvation of mankind. Its entire objection is to the Church is hostile to our political and social institutions.

In this there is a remarkable resemblance to the "alien" denounced against Jean Charest himself.

"If we let this man go," said the Senator's critics, "the Roman will come and take away our name and our nation."

Some think that Catholics should get their heads out of the clouds and get angry to see this rumor. That is not necessary. We know that the American people of all faiths with their traditional sense of justice, will bow the neck back into its owner without our help.

JUST A LINE OR TWO

The Madon Home and School had a very successful meeting recently. The guest speaker was Mr. McKewen, the Geography teacher at Haliburton High School. He gave a very interesting talk on his terrible experiences as a prisoner of war in Siberia. Another highlight of the evening was the "Treaty Page Challenge". It cost Gallatin's Liberty MP Dr. Nicholas Leide, $15 to recover his car the other night after the RCMP had it hauled away for lack of an official Parliament Hill parking sticker.

To recover his car from an RCMP-ordered tow service, Clayton Hodgson, Conservative MP for Victor & Haliburton had to travel twice as far as Dr. Leide, but it didn't cost him as much, for an RCMP-ordered tow service from the RCMP had it hauled away for lack of an official Parliament Hill parking sticker.

There Mrs. Hodgson said her car was in 12 inches of loose snow behind a billboard. "The serviceman was very nice," related the MP with a little smile. "He told me how lucky it was that I had come along then, for in another 10 minutes the 'Morose' character of the world would have been B." "And just in case I couldn't get the car out of the driveway, he would be 'reasonable' and hand it to the street for another $1."

"I told him I'd sit it out with my bare hands first."

WOULDN'T IT BE LOVELY
This week is Brotherhood Week. This week it would be lovely to miss for everyone to remind themself that all men are brothers, a fact that is too often forgotten.

It would be lovely for Canadians to condemn race hatred and violent campaign to prevent the needless loss of life in, or near the water.

It would be lovely if all men and women were white and man should despise a black and woman a black and white man should despise a woman of a different colour.

WATER SAFETY

The Canadian Red Cross is carrying on a continuous and vigorous campaign to prevent the needless loss of life in, or near the water.

Water safety, under Red Cross instruction, is designed to acquaint people with all ages with beautiful and pleasant recreation in a land that has been abundantly blessed with beautiful streams.

There are over 100,000 miles of water in Canada and more than 170,000 men, women and children participate in some phase of Red Cross Water Safety Services. This activity is supervised by the Red Cross staff under the supervision of volunteer Red Cross instructors.

CRITICS OF U.S. INVESTMENT GOOD TO EASY

There was a time, not so many years ago when Canada's balance of commodity trade with the United States was counterbalanced in no negligible degree by a favourable balance in our trade with the United States. This, in recent years, has suffered a reversal in trend and today, tourism contributes to a fairly considerable extent to our overall unfavorable balance with the U.S.

For many years, our life insurance companies played a fairly important role in our hidden balance with the United States. They have been a source of U.S. dollars to Canadian companies, being materially larger than those paid by Canadian to U.S. institutions. Here again, in recent years, this has suffered a reversal in trend.

Life insurance companies, which have been losing ground steadily.

By 1958, the figures show premiums paid to 12 Canadian companies by U.S. policyholders totalled $207 million, against $200 million paid by Canadian companies to the U.S. life companies in 1957.

The small balance of $7 million in Canada's favor last year compares with one of $12 million in 1957 and $10 million in 1956. All of which raises the question as to how Canada would have been in the event of any marked reduction in the flow of U.S. capital into the country.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION SERVICE

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service will provide 500,000 bottles of blood to meet the demands of Canadian hospitals for transfusion this winter.

These victims of disease, accidents and other emergencies will receive free transfusions of whole blood and plasma collected from voluntary donors.

This service is made possible by the people who willingly donate blood and citizens who generously contribute to the Red Cross annual appeal.

TOWNSHIP CLERK QUESTIONED AT LENGTH AT HEARING

Several members of the Township Council, present at the annexation hearing being held in Lindsay County Council Chambers, Tuesday morning when they heard Township Clerk Edward Smith give evidence in support of the proposed annexation of the lots and service stations situated in Opt Township.

It was the first time he was called after the first witness. His evidence, which had been presented in the form of a written statement for two large motel on the outskirts of Lindsay was $300. One resident with an approximately two acres of land in the township, reportedly much less than the motel, called to ask his land assessment was $350.

Officials of the Ontario Municipal Association questioned Mr. Smith at length regarding the assessment of the farmland situated in the area. Lindsay is seeking an answer.

When the hearing adjourned at 11:30 a.m. Mr. Smith was still giving evidence.

Healthy Position
At Wednesday evening Mr. Rod Ainsworth, accountant at the Lindsay Hydro Office gave evidence in support of the use of features of that area immediately west of Lindsay and had charged the Ontario Water Resources Commission which had been called in to inspect the water quality of the river.

There is a big ditch which carries surface water across the southwestern corner of the town and dumps it into the river above the filtration plant. The ditch increases the risk of contention and has recently become more troublesome.

Mr. Ainsworth revealed that the local commission is a very "healthy position." It was revealed that the assets of the township are valued at $50,000. This amount, $50,000 has been used to pay the taxes of the township. The witness said the commission did not think there was a need for a local commission if annexation should become a reality.

Committee to investigate Request for Transportation of 10-of-Town Pupils To St. Joseph's Academy

A request to have pupils transported to St. Joseph's Academy, Lindsay, on the same basis as students attending the Collegiate Institute has been submitted to Victoria County High School, Lindsay.

Request was made Wednesday night and not wholly satisfactory. Mr. Timmerlake declared referring to the sewage plant, "I'm not sure if the sewage plant is in the process of building Mr. Timmerlake said that although it was fairly new, he had been led to believe that even this recent installation was not the best in the area."

Calling attention to the position of the river above the sewage plant, Mr. Timmerlake said tests had indicated pollution at that point was 1,000 times higher than at any other point in the area. The engineer had been discussing the sewage plant and its features of that area immediately west of Lindsay and had charged the Ontario Water Resources Commission which had been called in to inspect the water quality of the river.

Is Hanging or Electrocuting Christian?

Letters to the Editor
Lindsay, Feb. 20, 1960
To the Editor of the Post,
Dear Sir,
In your paper of Wednesday, Feb. 17, 1960, there was a letter written by Mrs. C. Perrin of Cambridge, under the words "Capital Punishment". Mrs. Perrin is a lady I want to think of her as a fine Christian personality. She also has a perfectly legitimate God-given right to think just as she likes, this is a free country. I don't know where she lives, but I just don't agree with her. I cannot make it else harmonize with the rest of Christ's teaching, and examples.
The same law or list of commandments that say that shall not kill, also says that we must not commit adultery. Mrs. Perrin is a woman who was caught and taken in adultery. She did not condemn the woman of Samaria that came

Lindsay Pair Remanded On Assault Charges

William Patrick Tracy and Vernon McGuire of Lindsay displayed a keen interest in obtaining legal aid when they appeared in magistrate's court here Monday. The pair were remanded on assault charges following two incidents in which they were arrested last Saturday evening. When McGuire faced Magistrate R. I. Moore on a charge of assaulting Vernon Drinkwater, the magistrate remanded the accused had been before him a few days previous. "It might have been better if you had gone to jail then," he observed. McGuire denied. He pleaded not guilty to the assault charge. He also pleaded not guilty to the second charge of having struck in the face and kicked Edgar Dodds.

Tracy pleaded not guilty to having struck in the face and kicked Edgar Dodds. When he said he wanted a remand on legal counsel, Magistrate Moore said he would remand him, "in custody." "What about legal aid your worship?" Tracy asked the magistrate. McGuire said he was not guilty of the offense he was charged with and felt he would have the right to legal aid.

Crown Attorney Jordan asked Dodds and Drinkwater to appear before the bench with the observation that he wanted the magistrate to see the complainants. Dodds had a blackened eye and Drinkwater had some bloody looking scars about his nose and forehead. Neither man was banded.

Asked by Crown Attorney McCallum if he had been kicked, Drinkwater said he had but couldn't say by whom.

"When it amounts to robbery with violence," Crown Attorney Jordan declared, dismissing that the case was not complete at the end of the hearing.

Magistrate Moore said he didn't see any reason for putting off the case.

Tracy asked again about legal aid.

Lindsay Kinsmen Band

The Lindsay Kinsmen Band playing in the Toronto Kinsmen's Music Festival Saturday placed second to the internationally known Barrie band, losing out by only two marks. Lindsay's entry received 79 marks to the Barrie of 81.

Despite adverse road conditions several Lindsay people made the journey to Toronto to witness the competition held at the Eaton Auditorium. In competition with Lindsay were bands from Orillia, Peterborough, Simcoe and Barrie. Adjudicator L. H. Hunt, remarked that the test pieces were "competitors own choice" and he felt in most cases they had chosen much too difficult selection. However the criticism did not hold true for either Lindsay or Barrie each band handling its selection beautifully.

From Iceland their baggage included a baby carriage, a stroller and nine bags full of things which the kind-hearted Icelanders had sent to the hospital when they heard of the woman's plight. Dr. MacKay has suggested the following question to his kind's classes in International Keflavik, the airbase just out of Reykjavik, Iceland, to help the mother and young baby into Canada, since all Airway lines from Iceland go to New York and would have made complications to her entry into Canada.

The problem then arose as to how to get the mother and baby into Canada, since all Airway lines from Iceland go to New York and would have made complications to her entry into Canada.

He said an R.C.A.P. plane can fly to Keflavik, where some repairs which took about 24 hours during that time, Mr. MacKay was able to contact the authorities in Ottawa for her O.K. and was able to get the mother and baby about the R.C.A.F. Comet ship.

Fine Levied in Wake Of "Failing to Yield Charge"

Magistrate R. I. Moore expressed amazement Friday morning when a man appeared before him on a "failing to yield" charge.

"What," the magistrate explained, "driving a car, can't speak the English language how did he get a licence? He won't know what it's about — we have no Frenchmen here!"

The situation resolved itself when it was announced that the defendant had his own interpreter.

Questioned by Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan, the officer who laid the charge said there were no 'yield' or 'stop' signs at the intersection where the accident took place.

Magistrate Moore: "That's a pretty tough charge — didn't you tell the driver he was supposed to yield?"

The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge, but said his vision was obscured by a high snowbank.

Chief Bert Thomson of Rhinocorn disapproved on the visible sign and said that had the driver been taking proper precautions he could have avoided the crash.

A $10 fine and costs of $11.50 were levied.

Weekend Accidents

Heavy Roads Contributing Factor

Heavy roads were a contributing factor in three district accidents over the weekend. Property damage was relatively light in all instances and there were no personal injuries.

All three accidents occurred on Saturday. In the morning a collision occurred on Highway 50. Around mid-afternoon Saturday, Hazelton A. C. Dock of Lindsay and Ed Dodds of Coburn were involved in a two-car pileup near Horton's Service Station on the same highway.

A car driven by J. John McLean of Little Britain rolled over on Centre Road 6, Saturday, damage is estimated at $450. McLean was uninjured.
